

Continuing Education – Presentation Synopsis

“Accessibility: Measuring Twice and Cutting Once – Doing It Right the First Time”

Dallas AIA Continuing Education Seminar #112409

Presented By Fred D. Cawyer AIA

Architect, Interior Designer & Registered Accessibility Specialist

Session Presentation Title - “Accessibility: Measuring Twice and Cutting Once – Doing It Right the First Time”

Timeline - One and one-half Hours of Continuing Education Credits

Handouts – This Summary Memo

Seminar Goal & Objectives:

A general review of the Americans With Disabilities Act (ADA) and the Texas Accessibility Standards (TAS), and WHY there are accessibility regulations – because we and our clients were not “doing the right thing” as a nation

A photographic “Lessons Learned” approach regarding handicapped accessibility compliance – integrating the use of “The Good / The Bad / The Ugly” photographs of non-complying elements found in the built environment during State of Texas – TDLR-AB accessibility inspections

File: Presentation Synopsis – Measuring Twice & Cutting Once.doc